CHAPTER ONE

Misselthwaite Manor

Mary Lennox is an English girl. She is nine years old and lives in India with her mother and father. She has got blonde hair and a thin white face. She is often ill. 2

Her father is always busy with his work. Her mother is a beautiful woman, and she is always busy with parties and friends. No one has got time for Mary.

A lot of Indian servants ¹ look after Mary. She is not a nice child, because she only thinks about herself. She is unkind to her servants. No one loves Mary and Mary loves no one.

One hot morning she wakes up and hears a lot of people talking in her house. Then everything is silent.

‘What’s happening?’ thinks Mary. ‘Why isn’t my servant here? Who’s going to dress me?’

She waits a long time but no one comes.

1. servants : these people look after a house and sometimes children.

The Secret Garden

Suddenly two Englishmen come into her room. She looks at them angrily.

‘Look,’ says Barney, ‘there’s a child here.’

‘A child in this house!’ says the other man. ‘What’s your name?’

‘I’m Mary Lennox. Why am I alone this morning?’

‘Poor ¹ little girl!’ says Barney. ‘A lot of people in this house are very ill. And some are dead.’

‘Are my mother and father dead?’ asks Mary.

‘I’m very sorry, Mary,’ says Barney, ‘they are.’

Now Mary is all alone. She hasn’t got any family in India. She must go to England and live with her uncle, Mr Craven. He lives at Misselthwaite Manor in Yorkshire in the north of England.

‘Why am I always alone?’ thinks Mary. ‘Other children have got a family and they’re happy. Why can’t I have a family? Why doesn’t anyone love me?’

Mrs Medlock meets Mary in London. She is one of Mary’s uncle’s servants. She is a big woman with a red face and little black eyes. Mary doesn’t like her and Mrs Medlock doesn’t like Mary. During the trip on the train Mary is sad and silent. She looks out of the window at the English countryside.

‘Do you know your uncle, Archibald Craven?’ asks Mrs Medlock.

‘No, I don’t,’ says Mary.

‘Well,’ says Mrs Medlock, ‘he’s a strange man. He’s a hunchback ² and he’s very unhappy because his wife is dead. He can’t look after you because he’s always away.’

1. Poor : (here) you use this word because you feel sorry for someone.

2. hunchback : this person’s back is not straight.

The Secret Garden

Mary doesn't say a word.

'You're going to live in an old house with one hundred rooms,' says Mrs Medlock. 'It's near the moor and there are gardens and trees round it.'

When they get to Misselthwaite Manor it is dark. A servant opens a big door and Mrs Medlock takes Mary to her rooms.

'Mary,' says Mrs Medlock, 'these are your two rooms. You must stay here. Don't go to other parts of the house. Remember that!'

Mary feels sad because she is alone.

The next morning Mary wakes up and a pretty servant comes into her room. Her name is Martha and she is young and friendly.

Mary looks out of the window and asks, 'What's that?'

'That's the moor,' says Martha. 'Do you like it?'

'No,' says Mary. 'I don't like it because it's ugly.'

'The moor is beautiful in the spring and the summer when the flowers and plants grow,' says Martha. Mary likes Martha.

'There are twelve children in my family,' says Martha, 'and we're poor. My brothers and sisters play on the moor. My brother Dickon is always there. He loves animals, he talks to them.'

Mary likes animals too and she is interested in Dickon.

After breakfast Martha says, 'Go outside and play in the gardens. There are lots of gardens but one of them is closed – it's poor Mrs Craven's garden.'

'Why is it closed?' asks Mary.

'Because Mr Craven is very sad about that garden,' Martha replies.
